Brussels diamond heist highlights security holes

It was the night of Feb. 18, and it was about to go down. Armed robbers dressed in police uniforms broke through a hole they had made in the security fence at Brussels Airport and took diamonds worth $50 million as they were being loaded into the cargo hold of a plane. This diamond heist was only the latest in a long line of airport perimeter breaches. Read more

9 Stunning Next-Gen Airport Designs Cleared for Takeoff

Few of us will have the chance to visit an office designed by a world-class architect; an even smaller group will enjoy the luxury of living in a home designed by one. Airports, especially those in big cities, expose an architect's work to millions of people every year and are highly sought-after assignments. Read more

Teague's cabin vision: The future of the passenger experience

With aviation innovations groundside arriving faster than ever, passengers traveling from major airports are finding life increasingly easier. From self-check-ins to portered baggage drops to quicker and more efficient body scans, the industry has advanced more in the past five years than in the 20 that preceded. Read more

Shakes on a Plane: 'Harlem Shake' Joins the Mile-High Club

The latest incarnation of the "Harlem Shake" video fad recorded on board a Frontier Airlines flight now has the attention of federal investigators. The video has been viewed more than 400,000 times on YouTube. It was recorded by members of the Colorado College Ultimate Frisbee Team on their way to a tournament in San Diego over President's Day weekend. Read more

Nervous actions tip screeners to suspected fraudsters

The TSA says the men were observed by officers trained to spot behaviors that indicate a fear of discovery or that may pose a risk to security, behaviors that increase when one is trying to suppress high levels of stress. Read more

Two of man's best friend adds additional layer of security to airport screening

The Transportation Security Administration introduced its latest layer of security at Albany International Airport: two Labrador retrievers. Seven and Zelda will soon be joined by two more dogs, all of whom have been trained to detect explosives on passengers and their carry-on baggage. Read more

US Seeks to Confirm Report of Terror Leader's Death

American military and intelligence officials said today they are attempting to confirm a report from the Chadian military of the death of al Qaeda leader Mokhtar Belmokhtar, the alleged mastermind of the deadly attack on an Algerian natural gas facility in January. If the new report is confirmed, Belmokhtar's death would be a significant victory against a growing al Qaeda threat in northern Africa. Read more

150kg explosive material used in Karachi blast

An initial probe report of Abbas Town bomb explosion has been prepared according to which 150 kg of explosive material were used in the blast. According to the report, the blast left a crater that was 4 feet deep and 10 feet wide. 500 to 700 meters of the area was affected as a result of explosion. Read more

BJP asks government to take hard decisions to combat terror

The BJP targeted the government on the issue of internal security and terrorism and called for "hard" decisions regardless of consequences, asserting it was not opposed to the idea of NCTC but it should be within the constitutional framework. Read more

DHS: We can identify those who overstay on visas

DHS has taken steps to implement affordable measures to achieve the underlying goals of the requirement. Through enhancements to the system, which matches the information on an individual's passport at arrival and departure, DHS can now identify and target for enforcement those who have overstayed their period of admission and who represent a public safety and/or national security threat. ## Singapore, HK arrests in huge Australian drug bust

A Singaporean and a man from Hong Kong have been arrested in connection with an unprecedented methamphetamine seizure in Australia that was almost double the previous record, police said. Police said the pair, aged 32 and 51, were arrested along with a 21-year-old Australian man in an operation that netted more than half a tonne of the drug known as "ice" in raids on six properties across Sydney.
