Officials to tighten security at Suvarnabhumi airport

Airport officials have been ordered to check all emergency exits at Suvarnabhumi airport after a German jewel thief managed to flee Australian escorts and exit the airport building during a transit stop in Bangkok. Suvarnabhumi airport director Rawewan Netrakavesna said the checking was aimed at finding and plugging all security loopholes, starting with an upgrade of the warning system at all entries and exits. Milan overbridge poses a threat to airport security

Since its inauguration on Friday, the long-awaited Milan road overbridge (ROB) has been speedily catapulted to the status of the city's newest tourist destination. The unrestricted view of the airport from the newly inaugurated Milan road overbridge poses a grave security risk (apart from making it the latest tourist attraction). Read more

Union warns of more strikes at Perth airport after security screening staff walk off job

The United Voice union is warning of more industrial action at Perth airport over the weekend after a snap strike last night. Security screening staff at the Qantas domestic terminal walked off the job last night at 9.00pm (local time) for six hours. The workers took the action after five employees of contractor MSS Security were locked out for the second time. Read more

TSA Chief says International Developments Back TSA Risk-Based Security Moves

Pistole emphasized that the nature of the primary threat against US aircraft -- IEDs -- and the need for international cooperation to defeat plots uncovered by intelligence justify a recent TSA decision to synchronize items prohibited onboard US airliners with the international community and to allow small knives onboard commercial airplanes.

Myanmar Embassy Bomb Plot Involved Use of Chemical Explosives

The terrorist cell allegedly behind a foiled plot to bomb the Myanmar Embassy in Jakarta was planning to detonate a sophisticated chemical explosive in what a bomb expert at the National Police called a first in Indonesia. Bombs seized in raids on alleged leader Sigit Indrajit's terrorist organization uncovered evidence that the plotters were assembling bombs with hexamethylene triperoxide diamine, known as hexamine, a highly explosive organic compound. Read more

Man jailed six years for smuggling £160,000 of cocaine inside pasties

Dane Hamilton, 33, was stopped and searched at Birmingham Airport after arriving on a flight from Jamaica on August 2 last year. Officers discovered a box of Jamaican pasties, a savoury pastry, in his hand luggage. There were only 10 in the box instead of 12 and when officers examined them further they were found to contain small packets of cocaine instead of a meaty filling. Read more
