3. Managing Risks - Considerations for protection of Buildings
4. Managing Risks - Security Considerations for People
5. Managing Risks - Security Considerations for Vehicles
6. Security Quality Control Measures
7. Facility Protection Planning Exercise
8. Self-Empowerment

Who attends?

This workshop is relevant to security officers involved in the planning, implementation and maintenance of protective security measures for critical and 'attractive' installations such as airports, oil and gas, hotels, government facilities, military facilities, ports etc.

Why attend?

1. Participants will be able to conduct a security risk assessment using International Models
2. Participants will be able to implement a security plan for a critical facility based on the findings of the risk assessments.

The objective of CIP is to provide participants with the fundamentals related to security planning and implementation considerations for critical facilities and to effectively manage the implementation through the development of self-empowerment skills of their security officers.

Topics covered in the Training:

1. Concept of assessing risks
2. Managing identified risks through security countermeasures
3. Implementing a good Security Quality Control system
4. Planning and Implementing a Facility Protection Plan
5. Empowering the people who will execute the Security Plan
6. Intelligence and Surveillance
7. Counter-Terrorism
8. Cyber - crime
9. CBRNE

Participants will not only be taught the fundamentals but will also be provided with a number of 'Hands-on' practical field exercises during the workshop, one of which will be a security planning exercise for the hotel where the workshop will be held. The workshop will be conducted by two of the most qualified practitioners in the region who will share their experiences and knowledge in this field.

IATA testing Checkpoint of the Future security concept

Imagine clearing airport security in a reasonable amount of time, without the hassle of removing your shoes and avoiding the tedious task of taking your laptop out of its case and heaving it into a bin for inspection. For the last two years IATA has been working to make that scenario a reality through its ambitious scheme dubbed Checkpoint of the Future (COF) unveiled in 2011. Read more

Singapore Airport Takes Precautions for Haze

Singapore's Changi Airport has increased the allotted space between departing and landing aircraft as a thick haze from burning forests in neighboring Indonesia envelops the island nation, reducing visibility at its two runways. Still, flights have not been disrupted. Read more

Planes in 'near-miss' collision over New York City

US aviation officials are investigating a near-collision between two jets in the skies over New York City. On 13 June, a Delta Airlines Boeing 747 and a Shuttle America Embraer E170 came within 200ft (60m) vertically and half a mile (800m) horizontally from one another, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) said. ### US, S. Korea holding joint bioterrorism exercise

U.S. and South Korean officials will hold their third annual joint anti-bioterrorism exercise in Seoul, a sprawling mega-city of more than 10 million residents that some fear could someday become a target of an attack. About 80 U.S. officials and 120-130 South Korean military officials are expected to participate in the tabletop exercise. Read more

Edward Snowden due to quit Moscow in Ecuador asylum bid

Fugitive former US intelligence contractor Edward Snowden is due to fly out of Russia in the next few hours in a bid to seek asylum in Ecuador. Washington says it is urging countries in the "Western Hemisphere" not to let Mr Snowden enter their territory. Read more

Syrian capital rocked by suicide bombers in latest bloodshed

Suicide bombers targeted security compounds in Damascus and a car bomb exploded in a pro-regime district there Sunday, killing at least eight people, the latest in a surge of civil war violence in the capital. Read more

Al Qaeda says hostages in North Africa alive, open to talks

Eight hostages, including five from France, being held by al Qaeda in the Islamic Maghreb (AQIM) are safe, the Islamist group said in a statement posted on its Twitter account on Saturday. The statement coincided with rallies across France organised by the families of French hostages who were seized in Niger in September 2010 to mark more than 1,000 days of captivity. Read more
