Suspicious parcel leaves two ill at JFK airport

Two customs inspectors at New York's John F. Kennedy airport fell ill on Sunday after handling a parcel in a mail centre that apparently contained a toxic chemical, local media reported. The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) confirmed that it dispatched a hazardous response team to screen the two workers and the package for what a spokesman called "possible contaminants."

Bomb hoax forces US Airways flight from Ireland to Pittsburgh to make emergency landing

A US Airways plane flight from Ireland to Pittsburgh made an emergency landing in Philadelphia after a phoned-in bomb threat that later proved to be a hoax. All 171 passengers and crew members were safely evacuated from the Boeing 757, which had been moved to an isolated part of Philadelphia International Airport. Read more

Eiffel Tower Evacuated After Bomb Alert

The Eiffel Tower was evacuated by police following a bomb alert at the famous Paris landmark. The tower was cleared around 2pm local time and was kept closed to tourists for two hours. French media reported that the alert was triggered after an anonymous call was received, indicating the presence of a suspicious package. Read more

Customer service robots becoming a reality for airports and airlines

Self-service and automation has become such a central element of the passenger experience that the possibility of human agents eventually being removed from the airport process altogether seems almost feasible. With the proliferation of online check-in, home-printed and permanent bag tags, self-service bag drop and mobile boarding passes, it is more valid than ever before to question whether human agents are needed at every touchpoint. Terrorism cannot be completely eliminated, concedes Obama

US President Barack Obama has warned that terrorism cannot be completely eliminated and indicated that the United States may continue to use drone strikes at terrorist targets. “What we can do is to weaken it and to strengthen our partnerships in such a way that it does not pose the kind of horrible threat that we saw on 9/11.” he told a news conference at the White House this weekend. US embassies to reopen in Middle East and Africa after terror threat

Eighteen of the 19 US embassies and consulates that were closed in the Middle East and Africa over fears of attack will be reopened, according to the US state department. The embassy in Sana'a, Yemen, will remain closed. The consulate in Lahore, Pakistan, which was closed on Thursday because of what officials say was a separate credible threat, is also not scheduled to reopen. Read more

Is Canada doing enough to ‘de-radicalize’ convicted terrorists?

Corrections Canada does not have a specific de-radicalization program, drawing criticism that not enough is being done to prepare terrorist convicts to re-enter society. Experts in religion-based terrorism say faith counselling is a major component of counter-radicalization, particularly with Islamic extremism. The cancellation of the chaplains’ contracts, critics say, is a step backward at a time when a small but growing number of terrorist offenders are entering Canadian jails. Read more

Passenger found with more than 4kg of 'Ice' at Changi Airport

A Vietnamese woman was found with more than four kilograms of a substance suspected to be the drug 'Ice' when she landed at Changi Airport on Saturday morning. Officers from the Immigration and Checkpoints Authority and the Central Narcotics Bureau found two slabs of the crystallised substance wrapped in aluminium foil in the 47-year-old's luggage.
