Edmonton airport screener opened pipe bomb

RCMP search warrant documents detail a shocking degree of ineptness and dangerous handling of a potentially lethal pipe bomb at Edmonton International Airport by nearly everyone involved in the screening process. The search warrant, obtained exclusively by CBC News, describes how an airport security manager actually opened the pipe bomb and dumped the contents, apparently oblivious to the potential for triggering a deadly explosion. Airport bomb scare turns out to be just a haggis

A Scotsman had his haggis confiscated at Birmingham airport security, though his knife made it onto the plane. Airport security said they suspected Ian Blake, who was travelling home to Inverness, had a 'plastic explosive' in his luggage. Read more

Singapore Airlines launches UK Rail-Fly partnership to simplify end-to-end travel process

Singapore Airlines, rail operator First Great Western and Heathrow Express have formed a unique partnership in the UK that allows people to travel with all three companies on a single booking. The venture is designed to simplify the end-to-end travel experience by removing the need to make three separate bookings. Video Report

China Airlines to include Air New Zealand's Skycouch on B777s

China Airlines will include Air New Zealand's innovative Skycouch on its Boeing 777s, which will be delivered in September this year. The Skycouch is a row of three Economy seats that can be adjusted and transformed into a flat couch. Passengers can push the armrests into the back of the seat and then raise the footrest from under the seats to create a flat, more spacious area. Read more

Malaysia releases identity of female driver in MFA trespass case

Malaysia's Foreign Affairs Ministry has identified the woman who slipped past the Woodlands Checkpoint and tailgated her way into Singapore's Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MFA) building compound. Nurul Ruhana Binti Ishak, a 28-year-old woman from Kedah, was on Wednesday charged in Singapore with criminal trespass, media reports said. She has been remanded at the Institute of Mental Health (IMH) for a psychiatric assessment, police reportedly said as well. Read more

Terrorism Suspects Free Of Tough Controls

A group of terror suspects, branded by officials as a genuine threat to national security, are now free of tough controls designed to prevent them engaging in terrorist activity. From today, seven of the eight suspects on the UK Government's Terrorism Prevention and Investigation Measures (TPIMs) are now no longer subject to any restrictions. Video Report

The West needs a global strategy to deal with terrorism threat, says Tony Blair

The former Prime Minister claimed that conflict in the 21st century will no longer be competing ideologies, but rather differences in religion. Writing in the Observer, Mr Blair said that while security measures, including military action, should be considered to tackle conflict, they should be employed alongside education about religious tolerance. Thailand protesters block early election vote

Protesters in Thailand have surrounded polling stations, blocking early voting ahead of next week's general election, officials say. One of their leaders has been shot dead during a clash with government supporters in eastern Bangkok. Advance voting has been cancelled in dozens of venues in the capital and several southern provinces. Read more

Cambodian riot police clash with anti-government protesters

Riot police in Cambodia clashed with hundreds of anti-government protesters in the capital on Sunday, leaving several people injured. The protesters were demanding the release of 23 other demonstrators who were arrested during a crackdown earlier this month. When police blocked them from entering the capital's Freedom Park, protesters hurled rocks, water bottles and shoes toward security forces, who hit back with batons and tasers. Read more

Japan, India up security cooperation

Prime Minister Shinzo Abe and his Indian counterpart, Manmohan Singh, agreed Saturday to enhance the two countries' cooperation in the security field in response to the rapidly changing situation in East Asia. As part of the moves, Shotaro Yachi, secretary general at the National Security Secretariat, will launch regular talks with India's national security adviser, according to the two leaders' agreement reached at their meeting in New Delhi. China has "complete faith" in Sochi security

China is confident that Russia will be able to guarantee security at next month's Winter Olympics in Sochi, officials said on Tuesday. To ease fears over possible breaches of security, President Vladimir Putin has ordered safety measures beefed up nationwide after 34 people were killed last month in bombings in Volgograd, another city in southern Russia.
