South Carolina man found with loaded handgun in Va. airport

A South Carolina man was cited on weapons charges at the Norfolk International Airport on Sunday. The man was carrying a .38 caliber handgun loaded with six bullets inside his carry-on bag. The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) found the handgun after the man's bag went through a security X-ray machine, according to the TSA. The TSA says the gun was confiscated by airport police and the Gaffney man was issued a citation. The TSA reminds passengers that firearms are permitted if they are unloaded, inside a hard case checked bag and locked away from ammunition.

ISIS Cyber security Bulletin Notifies Followers of DOJ Request for Rifle Scope App User Data

The latest cyber security report circulated online to educate ISIS supporters on the latest vulnerabilities, threats and opportunities of interest included a report on federal officials seeking information from tech giants about users of a gun scope app. According to the Forbes exclusive early this month, the Department of Justice filed an application for a court order seeking the names, phone numbers and other identifying data of at least 10,000 users of Obsidian 4, an app available from Apple and Google to work with American Technologies Network Corp. rifle scopes. "This is the Future of Optics!" says the app pitch on Google Play, where it's been installed by users more than 10,000 times.

Joint Raid Targeted al-Qaeda Members in Taliban Stronghold, U.S. and Afghan Officials Say

Late yesterday, U.S. and Afghan forces targeted al Qaeda members in Musa Qala, a Taliban-controlled district in Afghanistan's southern Helmand province. The U.S. military said that "massed al Qaeda figures" at the location "presented an imminent threat." The Afghan government reported that "a high-profile Al Qaeda group" was "embedded with Taliban leaders" at the raid site. The joint operations immediately caused controversy, as some accounts indicate that dozens of civilians were killed. The precise cause of the civilian deaths, which may total in the dozens, including women and children, is under investigation. Several reports say at least some of the deceased were attending a wedding party.

Saudi Citizen Sentenced to 12 Years in Prison for Concealing Time at al-Qaeda Camp

Naif Abdulaziz M. Alfalaj, 35, a citizen of Saudi Arabia and a former resident of Weatherford, Oklahoma, has been sentenced to 151 months' imprisonment for making a false statement to the FBI about his attendance at an al Qaeda training camp in Afghanistan in late 2000, as well as for visa fraud.

US Takes Custody of Notorious ISIS Beheaders

Before turning the guardianship of ISIS prisoners over to Turkey, the U.S. gained custody of some of the most notorious ISIS beheaders suspected of torturing and murdering American and other Western hostages. U.S. officials announced that two of the four members of the British cell responsible for the imprisonment and beheading of American journalist James Foley as well as at least 27 other prisoners, including Americans Steven Scotloff and Peter Kassig. Foley's murder was choreographed, videoed and broadcast to the world in 2014 in what would become the first of many gruesome propaganda videos put out by the terror group. The cell members in U.S. custody include El Shafee Elsheikh, 31, and Alexandra Kotey, 35. Another famous member of the cell, Mohammed Emwazi, believed to be the executioner on the videos, was killed in a drone strike in 2015. The four-man cell was dubbed the "Beatles" by their Western hostages because of their British accents.

Chinese woman opens plane's emergency exit for some fresh air, delaying flight

A flight was delayed for an hour and a woman detained by police after she opened the emergency exit for "a breath of fresh air" before the flight took off in central China's Hubei province on Monday, mainland media reported. The incident happened on Xiamen Air flight MF8215 from Wuhan to Lanzhou, which was scheduled to take off at 3.45pm, Btime Video said. Cabin crew had briefed the woman, who appeared to be in her 50s, about the rules when sitting next to the emergency exit and reminded her not to touch the button that opened the emergency exit. However, the woman said she needed some fresh air and touched the button to open the exit when the stewardess turned around to help others, the report said.

Indonesia minister stabbed by IS-linked pair

Two members of an Islamic State group-linked terror network stabbed Indonesia's chief security minister Wiranto on Thursday, the intelligence head said, sending the powerful politician to emergency surgery for his wounds. Television images showed security officers wrestling a man and woman to the ground in Pandeglang on Java island after the attack on Wiranto, who goes by one name, as he was exiting a vehicle. The suspects were identified as 31-year-old Syahril Alamsyah and Fitri Andriana, 21 -- a married couple, according to local media. They were members of Jamaah Ansharut Daulah (JAD), an extremist group responsible for deadly suicide bombings at churches in Indonesia's second-biggest city Surabaya last year, State Intelligence Agency chief Budi Gunawan told reporters in Jakarta.

Passenger jet forced to make emergency landing after row breaks out between groups of British men

Seven Britons were reportedly escorted off a budget flight after it was forced to make an emergency landing when a row broke out. Onlookers claim the easyJet flight from Manchester to Tenerife was forced to divert to Portugal after an argument between two groups of men that saw one allegedly spit at a woman. The row is said to have broken out around two hours after the plane took off at 5.35pm on Thursday 3 October. Witnesses said a group of four men at the back of the plane started punching each other but were broken up by a member of the cabin crew, who moved one of the men to the front of the plane.
